PhD dissertation

title Detection and characterization of critical transitions in mitochondrial activity via high content screening supervisors Prof. Dr Rudi Balling and Dr Paul Antony

description Critical transitions exist in many dynamical systems, ranging from the Earth's climate system to microcosm populations. During a critical transition, the state of a dynamical system abruptly changes from one stable state to another, typically without obvious prior warning. In this thesis, we set out to study critical transitions in a simple cellular model using mitochondrial membrane potential as readout. To identify critical transitions, we established a modular high-content screening platform allowing systematic perturbation of oxidative phosphorylation. We showed that critical transitions are an intrinsic property of cellular systems and that two-component Gaussian mixture models adequately describe critical transitions dynamics.

Master thesis

title Secure integration of wireless sensor networks into application supervisors Prof. Jean-Pierre Hubaux and Laurent Gomez description Performed a risk analysis on integrating wireless sensor networks with business applications using NIST SP 800-30. We analyzed a security scheme which does not rely on complex operations guaranteeing end-to-end confidentiality of sensor data and provided both an in silico software demonstration and a hardware validation using physical components.
